

BRADFORD F. MILLS

Professor, Department of Agricultural and Applied Economics
Virginia Polytechnic Institute and State University
Blacksburg, Virginia 24061-0401
Tel.: 540-231-6461, FAX: 540-231-7417, EMAIL: BFMILLS@VT.EDU

EDUCATION

Ph.D. 1993. Agricultural and Resource Economics, University of California at Berkeley. Major Field: Economic Development, Minor Field: Agriculture and Resource Policy.

M.S. 1986. University of Connecticut. Major: Agricultural Economics.

B.A. 1984. Hobart College. Majors: Political Science and Religious Studies.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Full, Associate, and Assistant Professor, Department of Agricultural and Applied Economics, Virginia Tech. Fall 1997 – Present. Applied research on impact assessment, technology adoption, rural development, and poverty measurement and alleviation. Graduate instruction in rural development, regional economics, microeconomics, and econometrics.

Council on Competitiveness Economic Advisory Committee. Spring 2011 – 2015.

Graduate Program Director, Department of Agricultural and Applied Economics. Virginia Tech. Summer 2008 – spring 2011.

Visiting Scientist, Fraunhofer ISI, Karlsruhe. Summer 2007 – summer 2008. Sabbatical research on determinants and distributional implications of the adoption of residential energy-saving technologies.

Research Officer, International Service for National Agricultural Research, (ISNAR). 1995 – Fall 1997. Research and training activities in national and regional research evaluation and priority setting.

Rockefeller Foundation Social Science Research Fellow, ISNAR. Posted to the Kenya Agricultural Research Institute. 1993-1995. Development of research evaluation methods, including geographic information systems and multiple market equilibrium displacement models.

Research Support Specialist, Cornell University Food and Nutrition Policy Program. 1991-1993. Design of integrated household surveys to monitor household welfare in Ukraine and Romania. Analysis of welfare impacts of economic reform in Africa, including the labor market transitions of retrenched public sector workers. Management of 1991-1992 survey of 1728 households in Conakry Guinea.

Research Assistant, Department of Agricultural and Resource Economics, U.C. Berkeley. 1989-1991.

Research Associate, Gambian Agricultural Research and Diversification Project, International Agricultural Programs, University of Wisconsin. Posted in The Gambia. 1989.

Agricultural Economist, (Peace Corps Volunteer), Department of Agricultural Research Services, The Gambia. 1987-1989.

OTHER

Language Skills: English - Native tongue. French – Very Good, Mandinka – Good. Fulani - Working Knowledge.

Computer Skills: Familiar with most statistical analysis and GIS software.

Awards:

Early promotion and tenure, Assistant to Associate and Associate to Full, Virginia Tech

Rockefeller Foundation Social Science Research Fellow.

University of California Non-Resident Tuition Scholarship.

Phi Kappa Phi National Academic Honor Society.

International Experience: Long-term visiting scientists within research institutes in The Gambia, Guinea, Kenya, The Netherlands, and Germany. Short-term technical assistant to many other countries.
