III ADMINISTRATIVE EXPERIENCE

Associate Dean and Director, Office of Academic Programs (AP), Virginia Tech, College of Agriculture and Life Sciences

- Advocate for the academic mission of the College.
- Develop AP mission statement with staff members at first-ever unit retreat: "To promote, enhance, and develop a lifelong learning environment that encourages a proactive holistic approach to academic excellence for the college community.”

- Oversee all aspects of the Office of Academic Programs, which first and foremost provides services for students—current, prospective and alums. On a day-to-day basis, the Office provides advice and guidance to current students and faculty on matters relating to academic policies and procedures. Other functions include recruitment of prospective students into the College, alumni relations, career services, and the two-year Agricultural Technology degree program.
- Promote the scholarship of teaching and learning by sponsoring College teaching mini-grants ($60,000), hosting innovative teaching workshops and providing additional financial support for faculty to develop national teaching grant proposals.
- Promote the use of innovative teaching methods—student engagement, active learning, critical thinking skills, undergraduate research and service learning, experiential activities, international experiences, and internships.
- Enhance College diversity efforts and STEM projects (e.g., ExxonMobil Bernard Harris Math/Science Summer Camp, SEED School, MANNRS).
- Working with departments, awarded a record amount of scholarships—over $720,000 in 2008/2009.
- Provide resources to “Grow the College”—student enrollment increased 13%, from 2213 students in 2006 to over 2,500 students in 2008; transfer student enrollment also increased, in part due to our 2004 articulation agreement with the Virginia Community College System.
- Initiate programs to promote and celebrate student academic excellence and foster a “welcoming environment” for all students.
